Ann-Janette Webster's primary professional recognition comes from her role as a noted singer/songwriter. Having performed in support of two independent album releases, Ann-Janette's songs have been used in a number of film and TV projects. Her music was the focus of the TV concert event "Brighter Day Ahead: Live from the Heartland" which aired on PBS affiliates across the country. In her most recent project, "LoveTown" - a stage show turned pop-musical movie - Ann-Janette wrote all the original songs, play the female lead, and produced the project along with husband Jay Webster.

In 1997, Webster partnered with her husband to form Pioneer Productions Inc, an Oklahoma based creative team, where she serves as a producer for the company's productions (including: "Heart of a Champion"- for the US Olympic Swim Team, "Dress Appropriately" - a 30s spot for Speedo, "The American Dream" TV pilot, Chicago IL, and "Brighter Day Ahead" a PBS affiliate special).

Ann-Janette is currently continuing her role as producer for Pioneer Productions while pursuing her on-going career as a singer-songwriter.
